Eager to restore customer confidence, but concerned about wasting scarce resources to treat for chemicals that may pose no threat to human health, water utility managers throughout the country are now trying to define the most responsible course of action with respect to emerging contaminants. Join us as we welcome emerging contaminant expert, Tim Moore, and ESB's Allison Mackenzie and Larry Chrystal, who will discuss this interesting and timely topic for water managers.

Featured Presenters:

Tim Moore, President — Risk Sciences
“Pandora’s Paradox: Monitoring for Emerging Contaminants in the Municipal Water Supplies?”

Allison Mackenzie, CEO, Larry Chrystal, President & Lab Director — E.S. Babcock & Sons, Inc. Labs
“Sampling & Analysis Plan for the Santa Ana Watershed CEC Investigation.”
